

Reading List Toolbar

Summary: This document outlines details on an option to display the New List option on an eReserve Plus list.

Overview

By default, the New List option is located within the list dropdown, which is listed at the top before any existing lists for the course.

With this feature enabled, the New List option is now available as a button in the reading list toolbar, which makes this functionality easier to access.

The New List option is removed from the lists dropdown, leaving the dropdown solely for displaying selection for already created lists.
